DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Claims 6-14, 16 and 20 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 6-12, 16, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent Number 6,658,153 to Nakagawa et al. in view of U.S. Patent Publication Number 2002/0026645 to Son et al. in further view of U.S. Patent Number 6,552,749 to Jones et al..
4. Claims 6-12, 14, 16 and 20 are rejected for the reasoning presented in the previous office action.
5. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent Number 6,658,153 to Nakagawa et al. in view of U.S. Patent Publication Number 2002/0026645 to Son et al. in further view of U.S. Patent Number 6,552,749 to Jones et al. and in further view of U.S. Patent Number 5,574,720 to Lee.
6. Claim 13 is rejected for the same reasoning presented in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

Art Unit: 2142

7. Applicant's arguments filed 1/18/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that Jones does not teach a step of determining whether the key frame data is needed or not with respect to claim 6 and that Lee does not teach the limitation "if a network state is checked and determined to be good, then deciding to encode new data if an 'n' number of finally generated frame data are all transmitted to users" with respect to claim 13.

8. As to the argument for claim 6, the applicant argues that the Jones invention knows when it is not necessary to use key frame data for data encoding so therefore Jones teaches the applicant's invention as claimed. The current claims do not specify any specific type of data conversion.

9. As to the argument for claim 13, the argued limitation is broad and arbitrary so the Examiner's interpretation reads on the claimed invention.

10. The applicant is reminded that although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
